

APOLOGY TO DUKE FAILED TO MOVE HIM

Shunned Services in Church From Which "Insult" Came

Paris, Nov. 11.—(AP)—An Anglican pastor apologized today to the Duke of Windsor for an "insult" to a "man who could not defend himself," but the Duke nevertheless, shunned an Armistice Day service within St. George's church here because his presence previously had been declared unwelcome.

The pastor, the Rev. J. L. C. Dart, explaining his expressed wish that the former British king and former head of the Church of England not attend the service, told the British Legion:

"The very last thing I wished to do was publicly to insult a man who could not defend himself. Reporters made me do that. Nothing was farther from my intentions. I swear that is true. I wish to take this opportunity publicly to apologize."

The vicar revealed he had telephoned the Duke's equerry, Lieut. Dudley Forwood, an hour before the service and said he wanted to apologize to Windsor for "what amounted to a public insult."

Duke Refused
He said he told Lieut. Forwood that the Duke would be received by him and the church congregation with "all the respect due the king's brother" if he would consent to attend.

The Duke, however, refused. The Duke and Duchess, remaining within their hotel, bought poppies from an Englishwoman and gave them to British Legionnaires. The Windsors gave "quite a bit" to the veterans' fund in return for the poppies, the Englishwoman said.

The Rev. Dart, vicar of the Paris church, explained to a group of 60 British Legionnaires gathered at a small "protest meeting" outside the church that he was only expressing personal views when he said yesterday:

"I would rather the Duke did not attend the services."

The vicar told the group: "I will be very sorry if the Duke does not come. I will be very sorry if my statement is taken as a suggestion that the Duke stay away."

The vicar then was told by Colonel Theodore Crowther, commander of the Paris post of the British Legion, that the Duke already decided he would be "unable to come."

Duke "Can Take It"
Crowther persuaded most of the 60 protesters to enter the church, but a half dozen refused.

The vicar later disclosed that he had spoken to the Duke's equerry, Lieut. Forwood, urging that the Duke change his mind. Members of the Duke's suite said Windsor was "stunned" by the vicar's assertion yesterday.

The Duke's friends called the incident the "third crisis" in his life—following his abdication and the cancellation of his proposed American trip.

"Apparently his path still is far from smooth," said one of his aides. "But he's a cocky little fellow. He's standing up and taking it. Now he's trying to figure out what to do next."

Cause of Delay
Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Capt. Howard Kress and Sgt. Bates Huffaker of the Oklahoma highway patrol, adorned in new regulation loose white raincoats, grew impatient when the food they ordered at a cafe was long overdue. The proprietor apologized profusely.

The Negro cook, he said, had taken one look at the flopping white slickers, dropped his skillet and dived shrieking out the kitchen window.

Dr. Fred E. Morris, Dentist Here Over Half Century, Died Last Evening

Dr. Fred E. Morris, who for more than half a century practiced his profession as a dentist in Dixon in one location on the second floor of the Laing building, 93 Galena avenue, passed away at the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago early last evening. Dr. Morris was widely known throughout this section. He was active in lodge circles and was a prominent sportsman for many years.

About six weeks ago he suffered a physical breakdown and entered the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital for treatment. About two weeks ago he went to Chicago and entered the Presbyterian hospital. His strength failed quite rapidly until death relieved his suffering

A Mouthful

Oklahoma City, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The (take a deep breath) "S. F. P. O. M. P. A. B." wants to band stray husbands—so they can be spotted at a glance.

"The Society for the Prevention of Married Men Posing as Bachelors" proposed today that "all married men be compelled to wear wedding rings."

Miss Jessie Arnett, past president of Oklahoma's Business and Professional Women's Clubs and founder of the mouthful of initials explained: "Most of the girls I know don't have much time to waste. We need to know, right off, whether a man is married or not."

SUPPORT OF RED CROSS URGED BY MAY. SLOTHOWER

Attention is Called to the Roll Call Which Began This Morning

Mayor William Slothower today called attention of the citizens of Dixon to the annual Red Cross roll call in the following proclamation:

"Once again the time has come for our community to demonstrate its concern for maintaining a very necessary part of our civic welfare program—the work maintained by the Lee county chapter of the American Red Cross.

"It is not necessary for me to remind citizens of our community that the work of the Red Cross is a vital contribution to our community welfare. We have all seen, during the past year, how effective Red Cross work is, both from the standpoint of the year-round program and that done during times of great national emergency. Perhaps never before has the work of this great national agency been so universally endorsed as in this year during the gigantic relief operation in the devastating floods in the Ohio and Mississippi river valleys. It was a great work, done in an efficient manner, and truly deserves our most sincere commendation.

Has Done Share
"Our community, I am pleased to say, carried its full share of the responsibility for making this great relief work possible, through contributions of our citizens.

"The annual Roll Call of the Red Cross, through which such fine work is supported, is from November 11 to Thanksgiving Day. Memberships enrolled during that time will support the work for the year ahead of us. The Red Cross asks little from the community, yet contributes much to the general welfare of our people.

"It gives me great pleasure, as mayor of Dixon, to set aside the designated period as the time when all members will be asked to renew their memberships and those who have not enrolled before are urged to add their names to the ranks of Red Cross members in our community."

Worry Over Reduced Income Results In 3 Killings, Suicide

Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Worry over reduced income led to a triple killing and suicide at a Japanese rancher's home today.

Coroner Jack Garibaldi said Kichi Mishima, 60, strangled his wife, Haziye, 45; a daughter, Mizuno, 8, and a son, Itsumi, 6, with neckties and then hanged himself.

A surviving daughter, Zume, told the coroner her father had been brooding over lowered grape prices.

WILL SAIL MONDAY
Colon, Panama, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Governor Philip F. LaFollette of Wisconsin, recovered from influenza, plans to sail for home on Monday, Mrs. LaFollette said today.

The governor, still weak, was removed from the Colon hospital to his hotel last night. He became ill aboard the United Fruit liner Quirigua and was brought to Colon on Nov. 1.

VARGAS GIVES BRAZIL FASCIST CONSTITUTION

Rome Predicts Early Adherence To Anti-Communism Bloc

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, Nov. 11.—(AP)—President Getulio Vargas ruled Brazil today under sweeping dictatorial powers unequalled in the western hemisphere.

Outwardly, this largest of South American nations seemed to have accepted calmly the political coup which abolished Brazil's democratic form of government and set up in its stead one modeled in many respects after the corporate system employed by totalitarian European nations.

(Private sources in Buenos Aires, capital of neighboring Argentina, indicated that though Vargas had complete military support, there was considerable—if inactive—civilian opposition to his bloodless coup).

By the decree powers with which he had ruled largely since 1935, Vargas yesterday dissolved federal and state legislative bodies and proclaimed a new constitution with corporative, authoritarian trimmings.

The new constitution was put into effect immediately and a presidential manifesto declared the new regime would suspend payment on all government debts abroad.

The foreign relations ministry said Vargas' coup was not connected with European political ideologies and denied reports Brazil planned to join the German-Japanese-Italian pact against Communism.

In Paris and London there was speculation on whether Brazil would join the anti-Communist front or take a stand in the lineup of totalitarian states.

(French officials said they were watching the situation closely and pointed to Brazil's historical link with Portugal, which is friendly with Italy, Germany and insurgent Spain.

British Speculative
(British newspapers carried long reports of the change in Brazil and speculated on whether Brazil would join the anti-Communist agreement).

Washington officials withheld comment save for a state department disclosure that the coup would not alter the state department proposal to lease six idle destroyers to Brazil.

The new constitution proclaimed by Vargas cancelled the presidential election scheduled for January and gave Vargas indeterminate power as the "supreme authority in the state." Vargas could not have been re-elected under the old constitution.

Army support for Vargas' move was indicated in a telegram from the minister of war to state military governors, urging them to support the new regime.

Vargas himself disclosed that fear of armed revolution inspired, in part, his swift moves beginning

Boxer Will Fight Separation Efforts

Detroit, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Jack Doyle, the Irish boxer and crooner whose romance with Mrs. Delphine Dodge Godde, the automobile heiress, has been beset with litigation, was bound for Montreal today.

Before he left, he said that "people" whom he declined to identify were trying to separate him and Mrs. Godde and declared his intention to "fight."

Doyle said he was going to Montreal to check up on two witnesses whom he suspected of turning against him in the $2,000,000 alienation of affections suit filed by his divorced movie actress wife, Judith Allen, against Mrs. Godde in California.

Tribute to War Dead Paid by Dixonites in Exercise This Morning

Impressive Program Given at New High School Building

Dixon remembered its war dead with a solemn and impressive ceremony held this morning at Dixon high school preceded by a parade through the Dixon business district by the American Legion Post No. 12 and auxiliary, the Boy and Girl Scouts, and the Dixon drum and bugle corps of Post No. 12.

At the high school auditorium Judge Leon Zick spoke to school children and parents on patriotism. He declared that patriotism for peace as well as patriotism for war is important, that by being good citizens with interest in the welfare of our neighbor we can exercise patriotism every day so that it will not grow cold and necessitate a drastic revival created by the spirit of war.

Judge Zick said the American Legion is not solely a war patriotic institution but that it can inculcate the principles of peace and good living in the rising generation by fostering a program for the betterment of the young.

Service to Colors
B. J. Frazer, principal of Dixon high school presided at the exercises in the auditorium. A quartet from the Dixon State Hospital sang three numbers including "Taps" before Judge Zick's talk.

Following the exercises in the auditorium an impressive service to the colors was given on the high school square. The flag was lowered to half-mast above the crosses erected in memory of Dixon's war dead and a firing squad from Legion Post, accompanied by several bombs fired from the river bank nearby gave a salute to the dead. Meanwhile the spectators faced east and factory whistles blew prolonged blasts during the two minute interval of reverence.

MINOR DISTURBANCE
London, Nov. 11.—(AP)—A man struggled through the naval guard surrounding King George today at the World War cenotaph in Whitehall and broke the solemn two minutes of Armistice Day silence with the shout: "All this is hypocrisy—you're deliberately preparing for war?"

There was a clatter of hooves and mounted police threw the man to the ground, then shoved him back away from the king's guard.

The king, at the gray stone memorial in a prayerful salute to the British Empire's million war dead, stood motionless through the brief disturbance. The stentorian shout and sounds of the ensuing scuffle were carried over the radio.

The incident took place almost as close to the monarch as it was possible for any one in the dense crowd to reach.

The man shoved his way through the packed ranks of the naval guard at the end of 30 seconds of silence, shouting as he pushed.

Fugitive From Asylum
The demonstrator was identified at the home office as Stanley Storey who escaped Sept. 21 from the Cane Hill asylum in Surrey.

Several subdued boos from the crowd added to the disturbance and when the Horse Guards' gun boomed the end of the two minute period there were cries from the throng—"Kill him! Kill him!"

Then the national anthem swelled from the throng, drowning further disorder.

Additional police rushed up and surrounded the disturber and kept the crowd at a distance. Police hustled their captive away into a Downing street ambulance station.

The thousands massed before the cenotaph were impressed by the composure of the king and his brothers during the unprecedented outbreak.

Not one of them gave the slightest sign they noticed the disturber although the man, dashing from the north side of Whitehall, seemed to be making a direct line for His Majesty.

Queens Were Aghast
Witnesses said the man had one hand raised as he dashed through the ranks of the sailors. He seemed to trip, they said, just before the two policemen grabbed him.

Queen Mother Mary and Queen Elizabeth looked down aghast from a Home Office window until bugles sounded reveille and the voices of the multitude swelled up in "God Save the King."

Sir Samuel Hoare, home secretary, told the House of Commons later that Storey had no intention of attacking the king or anyone else and that he was unarmed. He said the man was suffering delusions and that he would not be prosecuted criminally.

The home secretary added, however, that Storey, 43 years old, had made a disturbance in the gallery of the House of Commons last Jan. 27 and might be recommitted to an asylum.

The disturbance took place at the height of Britain's commemorative service.

DRIVER LICENSE LAW DECLARED NOT NECESSARY

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Pointing to more than 1,100 convictions, Rep. F. W. Lewis, Robinson Democrat, today credited his recently enacted law to suspend the driving privileges of major traffic offenders with obviating the need of a driver's license plan.

"It seems to me," he said, "that the Lewis law is having the desired effect on drunken and reckless driving in Illinois. It accomplishes what the controversial drivers' license legislation seeks to accomplish without imposing any burden on the law abiding and careful driver."

To facilitate enforcement of the act he sponsored, Lewis said he would introduce an amendment requiring courts to file records of convictions with a central office.

Such a bureau, although depending on voluntary reports of the courts, was established by Governor Horner recently in the state highway police division.

Walter Williams, chief of the state highway police, announced that reports of 750 convictions of the Lewis law in Chicago and 346 downstate have been received by the special traffic bureau.

Negro Assailant oft Sheriff Sho

Coahoma, Miss., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Sheriff Lee Matthews announced last night that a young Negro who had attacked him and escaped had been shot and killed by an armed posse of deputy sheriffs, police officers and citizens.

The sheriff said the Negro, Jesse Turner, was arraigned on a robbery charge and attacked him while en route to a Clarksdale jail, escaping into a cypress break.

A member of the posse, estimated at 300 men, said the Negro was trailed to a house here and shot when he refused to surrender.

Rubinfo's Daughter Gets Consent To Wed

Waterloo, Ia., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Ruby Rubinfo, daughter of the violinist, Dave Rubinfo, today had her father's word that he would consent to her marriage to Robert Claymen, Pittsburgh, Pa., orchestra leader.

The marriage license bureau in Pittsburgh refused to issue a license to the couple Tuesday on the grounds that Miss Rubinfo would not be 21 until Dec. 10.

Two Dixon Boys Arrested Today For Burglary in Grocery Store

Richard Blaga, 14, and Abe "Buck" McConnell, 15, were arrested this morning about 8 o'clock by Patrolmen Harry Fischer and John Bohnstiel who were summoned to the William Meyers grocery store at 717 Brinton avenue, where a robbery had been reported. Considerable loot, alleged to have been taken from the neighborhood grocery, was recovered in a shack in the rear of McConnell's home at 748 North Jefferson avenue, it was stated.

At the police station when questioned by Chief Van Bibber, the two boys were said to have admitted breaking into the store about 2 o'clock this morning, where they not only ransacked the small building but committed other depredations. About $5 worth of cold meats, groceries and cigarettes were taken from the stock, together with about $1.50 in pennies which were taken from a box containing sales tax.

The boys told the police, the officers said, that they broke two panes of glass to gain entrance to the store from the rear of the building. Blaga was arrested at his home on Graham street, to which he returned shortly before 6 o'clock this morning.

Blaga is on parole from the St. Charles training school for boys where he served a term for a series of robberies which included local stores, residences and the high school some months ago. State's Attorney Edward Jones was called into the investigation today and charges will be filed against each of the youths.

Taken before Justice J. O. Shaulis in police court, charges of burglary and larceny were preferred against both boys and the preliminary hearings were continued until Friday morning at 10 o'clock. In default of bail both were remanded to the county jail.

Best Friends

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 11.—(AP)—American Legion Post No. 36, meeting on the eve of Armistice Day, heard first hand reports of military preparations in Europe and adopted a resolution asking:

"That the United States, not unmindful of its staunchest allies, erect at the geographical center of this country a monument to its greatest real friends and allies—the Atlantic and Pacific oceans—and inscribe thereon suitable expressions of our appreciation and gratitude to the Almighty Creator for such friends."

VICTIM OF ROCK ISLAND FATALITY BURIED IN DIXON

Mrs. Fanny Rosenstiel Was Former Resident of This Community

Mr. and Mrs. William Teschen-dorf have received word of the death of Mrs. Fanny Grant Rosenstiel of Moline, a former resident of Dixon, at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning, death resulting from a skull fracture and other injuries sustained Tuesday night about 11:30 when the car in which she was a passenger was struck by a Rock Island railroad switch engine at Seventeenth street in Moline.

Her husband, J. J. Rosenstiel, and M. M. Trimble of Moline are in a critical condition and Mrs. Trimble died while being removed to the hospital in an ambulance.

Burial at Oakwood
The body of Mrs. Rosenstiel will be brought to Dixon Friday afternoon about 3:30 for interment in Oakwood, Rev. Lloyd W. Walter, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, conducting the committal service at the grave.

Fanny Taylor Rosenstiel was born Jan. 16, 1895, in Port Byron, and attended school there. She went to Moline about 25 years ago. She was married to J. J. Rosenstiel in Moline on June 1, 1927. Mrs. Rosenstiel was a member of the Royal Neighbors of America. Surviving are the widower, two brothers, James Taylor of Delhi, Minn., and Louis Taylor of Hampton, and two sisters, Mrs. Harry Johnson of Delhi, Minn., and Mrs. Willard Avery of Erie.

Italy Contributes Forty Warships To Anti-Piracy Patrol

London, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Italy finally has joined the Mediterranean anti-piracy patrol, it was disclosed today.

Italy has contributed 30 to 40 warships to the patrol against unidentified ships and planes which have attacked merchant shipping. Britain and France have had some 150 warships in the patrol for nearly two months under the accord, drafted at Nyon without Italian participation.

Italy at first declined to join the anti-piracy guard, irked by Russian charges—vigorously denied by Italy—that Italian ships were responsible for pirate attacks, and because Italy was not given equality with other powers in the patrol. A compromise was effected by naval technicians conferring last month in Paris.

Was Bum Picker
Quincy, Ill., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Newt Terry ruefully admitted today he was a bum picker. He chose the front door of the police court to kick in and a bench inside to sleep on. In the morning the judge came down and fined him $7.25 on an intoxication charge. Newt promised to make no more stops on his way home to Taylor, Mo.

HAD FLOWN 9500 MILES
London, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Pembroke Stephens, British correspondent killed in Shanghai today, had flown 9,500 miles from London to Hongkong in August to reach the Chinese war zone. He had just spent a year covering the Spanish civil war.

Before entering newspaper work he had practiced law, worked in the movies and as an official League of Nations secretariat. He succeeded Sir Percival Phillips, American born war correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph who died last January of an illness contracted while covering the Spanish conflict.

Stephens was expelled from Germany in 1934 while acting as Berlin correspondent of the London Daily Express. He and his wife were arrested, he said at that time, after making inquiries about "mysterious building activity in a forest near Dessau."

Mendota Woman Is Elected Director Of State P. T. A.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The Illinois Parent-Teachers' association today elected Mrs. Melvin Lockhart of Cobden, and Mrs. William Barber, of Mendota, district directors. Mrs. Harry M. Mulberry, Chicago, was elected a member of the executive committee-at-large. The three day meeting will be concluded tomorrow.

JAPANESE MOP UP ISOLATED ENEMY UNITS

War Correspondent Killed Watching Hostilities

BULLETIN
Shanghai, Nov. 12.—(Friday)—(AP)—The Japanese occupation of Shanghai was completed this morning.

The last Chinese troops, who had held out while the major part of their army withdrew to defenses west of the international city on Tuesday, retreated from Nantao, the native section.

A spectacular battle preceded the retreat.

Shanghai, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Japanese forces spread fire, death and destruction along the southern border of the French concession today, mopping up the last Chinese defending the Shanghai area from the Nantao quarter.

Watching the spectacular battle from concession sidelines a few yards away, Pembroke Stephens, correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, was killed by a hail of Japanese machine gun bullets.

Tonight blazing fires dotted Nantao and Pootung; a boom of sunken boats across the Whangpoo river burned fiercely; scores of houses, shops and small factories in the native city were in ruins.

Three hundred of the estimated 6,000 Chinese troops defending the Nantao quarter of Shanghai fled to the French concession, where they were disarmed and interned. The flight was thought to be a prelude to collapse of the last Chinese resistance in this international city.

When the strong defense position anchored on the French concession border broke at mid-day, Chinese along the entire wing wilted attempting a retreat through Nantao. Tonight the only remaining Chinese were believed to be small, trapped units which Japanese were hunting down.

Stephens was killed and the two tramway employees were wounded when Japanese attacked Chinese in a sandbagged machinegun nest just outside the concession.

With eight other foreigners, Stephens had watched the battle from the platform of the 200-foot French water tower, just outside the concession boundary.

Spray Platform
Suddenly, Japanese turned up their machine guns and peppered the platform with hundreds of bullets.

Stephens and his wounded companions were found when Captain Evans Carlson, United States marine observer watching the battle, saw blood dripping from the platform overhead and climbed up the tower.

Officials of the China International famine relief committee returning from Shantung province reported that floods, famine and earthquakes have brought the greatest calamity within 50 years to that rich area.

A million Chinese were said to be homeless and destitute. Another million were verging on ruin. Floods were described as worse than the disastrous inundations of 1935.

Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek declared China's real struggle against Japan was just beginning. T. V. Soong, head of the bank of China said the nation was able financially to carry on five times as long as Japan.

NEW REPUBLICAN
GROUP HOPES TO
REWIND ILLINOISGives North Counties
More Powerful Voice
For Candidates

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 11—(AP)—A new organization—the Republican county chairman's association of northern Illinois—has set out on a program which party chieftains from 32 counties hoped would bring the state back in the Republican fold.

It was established, G. O. P. leaders said, with a view to giving the northern counties a more powerful voice in the selection of candidates, the formation of policies and the conduct of campaigns.

State's Attorney Charles A.
O'Connor of Aurora was elected chairman of the association at a meeting of delegates yesterday.
Other officers named were: George Brydia, Prophetstown, vice-chairman; J. E. Hill, Streator, secretary.

GET UP NIGHTS?
FLUSH KIDNEYS WITH

Juniper oil, buchu leaves, etc. Make this simple test if passage is scanty, irregular, smart or burning, have frequent desire, get up nights or if kidneys are sluggish causing backache. Use juniper oil, buchu leaves, etc., made into little green tablets called Bukets to flush the kidneys, just as you would use castor oil to flush the bowels. Help nature eliminate troublesome waste and excess acids. Ask any druggist for the test box of Bukets. Locally at Rowland's Pharmacy.

and B. H. Miller, Libertyville, treasurer.

The association, which will represent all northern counties except Cook, voted to function as a unit, and recommended that leaders in the central and southern districts take similar action.

Committee Named

Those named to the executive committee were A. K. Stiles, Sycamore; Gordon Leitch, Plano; O. D.
Peterson, Kewanee; A. B. Galloway,
Freeport; Victor McBroom, Kankakee;
Paul G. Fricke, Rockford; Charles
Schupp, Joliet; Dr. Paul A. Is-herhood, West Chicago; Ralph
Hooper, Morris, and Frank Daly, Woodstock.

All have been serving as chairmen of the party committees in their own counties with the exception of Fricke, who is secretary of the Winnebago county group.

Among those who addressed the 125 conferees at yesterday's meeting, called by State's Attorney
O'Connor, chairman of the Kane county central committee, were Congressman Noah M. Mason, of Oglesby; Rodney Brandon of Batavia, Republican nominee for congressman-at-large in the last election, and George Barr of Joliet.

Congressman Mason said
strengthening of the party in Illinois must start at the "bottom" in each county.

M. E. Churches to Aid War Victims

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 11—(AP)—
Members of 20,000 Methodist Episcopal churches in the United States will observe "China Emergency Sunday, December 5 to raise a special relief fund for the aid of Sino-Japanese conflict victims.

The board of 18 active M. E.
bishops, in addition to several retired executives, approved here this week plans for the appeal and set up a China emergency relief fund board.

Bishop Herbert Welch, retired, foreign missions board member, em-
less by the war must be fed and clothed. He said the missions board had authorized the continued service in China of only those missionaries who elected to remain there.

CATHOLICISM MOVING INTO NEW ETHIOPIA

Mussolini Encouraging Religious Tolerance

(This is the last of a series of three articles on Italy's new Ethiopian Empire.)

Rome, Nov. 11—(AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini has adopted a policy of religious tolerance toward Ethiopia's 10,000,000 natives, although Catholic churches are going up in the newly acquired domain under his direct orders.

Thus Il Duce has offered the Vatican an open door in Ethiopia, and at the same time left the way clear for enlightenment of a non-sectarian nature and for the native pursuit of native faith.

Mussolini's engineers have built, or are completing, eight Catholic churches with dozens of auxiliary schools, dispensaries and clinics in Ethiopia. Further, Il Duce has stimulated the idea of Catholic mission education.

He estimates 800 priest missionaries and 1,200 nuns are needed to aid Fascism in the work of "civilizing" the conquered territory. The Salesian Brotherhood—famous for its work in South Africa—has been authorized to lead the mission work.

Renovates Coptic Churches
On the other hand, he has renovated dozens of crumbling churches of the Coptic congregation, by far the greatest numerically in the central Ethiopian uplands. Italian colonial officers have shown respect for the authority of its "abundant" or bishops.

Moslems in the east and south of the domain also have received the premier's guarantees. He holds the "Sword of Islam," bejeweled fighting emblem of Islamic authority presented by Arab Mohammedans during his visit to Libya last March.

Mussolini has given orders for the establishment of a model Moslem capital in Harrar, second largest city in Ethiopia.

Tolerance of other sects has been decreed. To make the decree effective, a religious census has been ordered.

At present, loose figures indicate there are about 1,740 Protestant natives in Ethiopia. Of these, about 580 owe their convictions to American religious missions. The others are proteges of various European missions.

With the field open to Catholic teaching, Pope Pius has responded vigorously. Monsignor Giovanni Castellani already is installed in Addis Ababa as apostolic delegate, the first to be sent to Ethiopia.

Under the apostolic delegate's jurisdiction, Ethiopia has been assigned four apostolic prefectures and two vicariates. Previously, church matters came direct from one prefecture and four vicariates.

'BACK TO JAIL' COURT'S ORDER FOR EX-BROKER

Chicago, Nov. 11—(AP)—Raymond E. Prochnow, who served nearly three years in jail although never convicted of a crime, has been ordered back to a cell in debtors' row.

The Appellate court issued directions for his arrest in an opinion reversing the ruling of Circuit Judge Harry Fisher which had paved the way to temporary freedom for the former investment broker last year.

Prochnow, now 40, was first sent to jail on May 23, 1932—when Circuit Judge Thomas Taylor found him guilty of contempt. The findings were based on his failure to account for securities valued at $32,282. He had been ordered to turn them over to Mrs. Marion G. Wilson, executrix of the estate of her father, William Garnett.

The defendant later obtained his release pending an appeal but was incarcerated again on May 14, 1934. Prochnow, then known as the "Forgotten Man" was freed on Nov. 21, 1936, when Judge Fisher held no useful purpose was served by his indefinite imprisonment.

However, the Appellate court has sustained Mrs. Wilson's appeal and directed the Circuit Court to jail him until he furnished a detailed explanation of the disposition of the securities.

Prochnow is married and the father of two children.

Travel Tips

By Dede Welch
Secretary Dixon Branch of Chicago Motor Club

Dear to the hearts of everyone interested in the history of the state, and particularly in the life of Abraham Lincoln, Springfield, state capital of Illinois, is this week's suggestion as a goal for a short automobile trip.

Visitors, of course, will want to inspect the capitol where the mechanics of government are housed, but the chief lure for most visitors to Springfield is the many spots associated with the early career of the martyred president. Among these are:

The Lincoln tomb and monument located in Oak Ridge cemetery about two miles north of the capitol. Here is the final resting place of Abraham Lincoln, a fitting memorial beautifully and inspiringly produced. Also interred here are the bodies of Mrs. Lincoln and the children.

The Lincoln Memorial gardens, a park under construction, located on Lake Springfield and consisting of 60 acres.

The Lincoln homestead located in the city of Springfield at the corner of 8th and Jackson streets. The house was purchased by Lincoln in 1844 and it was here that Lincoln received the official notification of his presidency. It is preserved as a museum and is open to the public daily.

The site of Speed's general store, 107 South Fifth street, and above this store Lincoln shared a room with Speed in 1837.

Site of Stuart and Lincoln's law office (1837-1841) at 109 North Fifth street.

Site of Logan and Lincoln's law office (1841-1843) at 203 South Sixth street.

Site of Lincoln and Herndon's law office (1843-1865) at 103 South Fifth street.

Site of the Globe tavern, 315 East Adams. Here Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln lived until May 2, 1844, and here Robert Lincoln was born.

C. M. Smith building, 528 East Adams street. In a room on the third floor of this building Lincoln wrote his first inaugural address in January, 1861.

Site of Illinois State Journal, 116 North Sixth street. Here Lincoln received the news on May 18, 1860, of his nomination for the presidency.

Merchant School

Evelyn M. Kranov, Teacher
On October 1 the Merchant school organized their first P-T. A. Mrs. James Reed was elected president, Mrs. Gladys Jacobs, vice-president and program chairman, Evelyn Kranov, secretary and treasurer. Prof. L. W. Miller, county superintendent of schools, was present and gave his very instructive and interesting lecture, illustrated with slides on the subject, Whittier's Snow Bound. Later refreshments of pie, cookies and coffee were served.

Friday evening, Nov. 5, the second P-T. A. meeting was held. This meeting was most encouraging to those who have worked hard to make it a success. There was a large attendance and the program was enthusiastically received. We sincerely hope that this meeting proves to be symbolic of future meetings. After a short business meeting the following program was presented: Community singing by audience; operetta, "Muffs," Eva and Goble Wadsworth, Evelyn Kranov and George Ross. "Afternoon Calls," Eva Wadsworth, Evelyn Kranov, Professor Lehman and George Ross. Address, Attorney Gilchrist of Walnut; minstrels, Tommy Downs and Kenneth Edson; Larkin quartet, Evelyn Kranov, Jennie Hill, Clifford Larkin and Leslie Larkin; reading, Mrs. Gladys Jacobs. Mr. Gilchrist addressed the parents on the subject of "What we have accomplished concerning the health of the rural child." This proved to be a very interesting subject as it is one in which every parent is vitally interested. Following the program refreshments of fruit jello with whipped cream, cake and coffee were enjoyed. This climaxed a very enjoyable evening.

We had a one hundred percent attendance for the month of November, which was a record. Loren Scheffler, Fred Scheffler, Mary Lou Scheffler, John Jacobs, Helen Jacobs, Dora Jacobs, Gladys Jacobs, Elmer Hopkins, Clarence Hopkins, Marion Reed, Marvin Reed, Doro-

Answer to Question No. 1

1. I judge her ladyship meant that the more women discover men's true character, the more they feel superior to them. If so, I think she was wrong. I think the more either sex understands the other the more they find to admire. She was correct that women—feminine women—do not wish to be like men. Very few of them wish to adventure, explore, build empires, own the moon; but they do wish to find in men the completion of their own qualities—the fulfillment of their dependence, motherliness, sympathy and passion for co-operation in making life a richer and better thing than each could make it alone.

FEED PRICES FAVORABLE FOR DAIRY PROFITS

Income Can Be Increased With Balanced Ration, And Good Cows

Because of the present relationship between feed and dairy products prices, Illinois farmers have a chance to increase their income from forage and grain by marketing them in the form of milk or cream, according to C. S. Rhode, of the dairy department, college of agriculture, University of Illinois. "To be successful in marketing grain and forage in the form of dairy products, however, it is necessary that the farmer have good cows and give them plenty of the right kind of feed combined into a balanced ration," Rhode said.

"In following a careful feeding program to get the most out of their cows, successful dairymen give them all the hay and other roughage they will clean up. In addition they give the cows a balanced ration fed according to production.

"Holsteins and Brown Swiss usually are fed one pound of grain for each four pounds of milk produced daily. The rate for Jerseys and Guernseys is one pound of grain for each two and one-half to three pounds of milk a day."

When legume hay and silage, or clover and timothy without silage are fed, a satisfactory grain mixture is 700 pounds of corn and cob meal, 400 pounds of ground oats, 100 pounds of cottonseed meal, 100 pounds of soybean oil meal and 100 pounds of bran. Another grain mixture is 400 pounds of corn and cob meal, 200 pounds of ground oats and 100 pounds of soybean oil meal.

If the hay and roughage rations include plenty of alfalfa, clover or soybean hay but no silage, the grain ration may consist of 400 pounds of corn and cob meal, 400 pounds of ground oats and 50 pounds of soybean oil meal or ground soybeans. Another mixture is 600 pounds of corn and cob meal, 300 pounds of ground oats, 100 pounds of dried brewers' grain and 50 pounds of soybean oil meal. Salt should be added to the grain mixture at the rate of one and one-half to two pounds of salt to each 100 pounds of grain. Special bone meal may also be added at the rate of one to one and one-half pounds of bone meal for each 100 pounds of grain.

OPPOSE DESIRE OF FARM LEADER TO LEAVE POST

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 11—Opposition to the expressed desire of Lou J. Taber of Columbus, O., to resign as master of the National Grange, gained momentum today among delegates to the 71st annual convention.

Taber, who desired to return to private life after 14 years as national master—longer than anyone else ever held the post—and 37 years as a charter officer of the Grange, was undecided as to his final action.

The 58-year-old Grange leader, who owns an ordinary-sized farm near Barnesville, O., also is acting president of the Farmers and Traders Life Insurance company of Syracuse, N. Y. He said he had been offered a number of positions in private life but was undecided which he would accept.

His present job with the Grange pays him $5,000 a year. There has been talk among the delegates that Taber's salary should be increased and that he should be given assistants, so that he would have more time to spend with his family.

David H. Agans, of Three Bridges, N. J., master of the New Jersey State Grange, and overseer of the national organization, second in command to Taber, declared "neither agriculture nor the Grange nor the country at large could allow Taber to resign."

Taber said he hoped to "live to see the time when the United States gets out of debt and the national budget will be balanced."

The grangers heard an address by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace, and the annual report of their Washington representative, Fred Brenckman.

AMERICANS' BIG STAKE IN A POWERFUL NAVY

Even the most convinced pacifist must have moments, these days, in which he feels like thanking his God for the United States Navy.

We seem to have passed entirely out of the era in which international law or international treaties meant anything in particular. What makes the present so dark and the future so discouraging is the fact that the world has reverted to the rule of brute force.

A nation's only safeguard lies in its own strength; and it is extremely comforting to see that America's strength is fully implemented—sinewed and made ready in a way no one can mistake.

We have been one of the world's luckiest nations for a century and a half—lucky because of our isolation, because of our infinite supply of natural resources, because destiny fixed things so that we could work out our own salvation in our own way.

But lucky nations are on the spot nowadays. The nations which have not been lucky have set out to take the things which have been denied them. In Ethiopia, in Spain and in China we have had ample opportunity to see just how determined and ruthless this desire to get a better share of the good things of this earth can make a people.

It used to be supposed that simply to possess strong armaments put a nation on its muscle. Build a great fleet or a great army and you will sooner or later go looking for a chance to use it—so ran the argument. But our own recent experience disproves that. We have one of the two mightiest navies on earth—yet we have resolutely kept our skirts clear of all entanglement in the Mediterranean and have followed, in China, precisely the course we would have followed if our fleet were small and weak.

And as we do this we have the comfort of knowing that the war cannot be brought to our own shores. What happened to Nanking and Madrid would happen to San Francisco or New York. Not until our navy is destroyed—and there exists today no power that could destroy it—can that be inflicted on us.

Our old pre-war outlook, which held that strong armaments were somehow incompatible with peace-loving democracy, has had to change. Democracy today is on trial as never before. It has to be strong enough to defend itself against powers which would destroy it. Until this turbulent and uncertain era passes, it is hard to see how we can do anything else than keep our fleet as strong as the strong and as ready as the readiest.

SEEING OUR JOBS AS PART OF THE WHOLE

The business world wants the small liberal arts college to supply it with "men who are citizens first and business men second."

Dr. Luther A. Harr, Pennsylvania state secretary of banking, made this remark before some 600 educators who had gathered at Muhlenberg College the other day for an academic symposium. He went on to expand his statement by saying that the business world needs men with these qualifications:

"Men with an awareness of the pressing problems of our distressed world; men with the desire to grapple with the most dangerous and difficult issues; men with enough historical background not to be deluded by the sirens of Fascism or the vigorous claims of Communism; men who realize that business is not the be-all and end-all of life, but a part of a larger whole."

All of which shapes up to quite a set of specifications. It is much like telling the colleges: "We need a smarter and more altruistic set of human beings—won't you please start grinding them out?" It is a good trick if the colleges can do it.

And yet something along the line of what Mr. Harr is asking for is very greatly needed—not only in the world of business, but in all other walks of life as well. For we are under the necessity nowadays, more than ever before, to realize that all of us as Americans are in the same boat together, that we can't drift our way out of our troubles, and that we need something more than a mere application to the problems of our own bread and butter.

Life has grown almost unimaginably complex in this modern world. The national welfare depends on the mutual adjustment of an infinite number of individual selfish desires—which boil down, in the end, to the varying ways in which each of us tries to get as many of the good things of life as he can possibly lay his hands on.

Our success, or lack of it, in that age-old human quest depends largely on the sort of country we have—its degree of prosperity, its ability to evolve policies that will keep the economic machine working, its readiness to remove disabilities from the shoulders of the unfortunate. And yet these things, in their turn, grow out of the way in which we as individuals go about the business of earning a living.

We are all links in a chain which describes an endless circle. No trade, business or profession can settle its problems without reference to the larger whole. It is hardly going too far to say that our national future depends on our ability to see our personal concerns in their relation to the national picture. If the colleges can help us to do this, then more power to them.

STORIES IN STAMPS

SEVEN CENTURIES for BERLIN

VENERABLE but modern capital, Germany's Berlin passes the seventh century mark this year; a city grown out of two fishing villages on the banks of the river Spree.

Coelln and Berlin became rustic villages in the early 1300s. Coelln actually had started in 1237 and Berlin a little later. In the 14th century the two consolidated, emerged eventually into towns and in the 16th century took on the first aura of governmental importance.

In that era the Elector of Brandenburg made Berlin his official residence. But Berlin was not yet to be a city of great importance. Not until the close of the Franco-Prussian War in 1870 did it leap into prominence. Even at the time of Frederick the Great it numbered scarcely 150,000 inhabitants. But a few decades later and it had reached the staggering total of 4,000,000.

Today industry and trade flourish in this great capital. And here, too, is the fountainhead of the government, center of many imposing buildings. The great Berlin postoffice is shown here on a 1900 stamp.

PLAN DESIGNED FOR CURRICULA EMPHASIS SHIFT

Chicago Board of Education Presents New System

Chicago, Nov. 11 — (AP)—The Chicago American said the board of education has designed a five-year plan to revise curricula in Chicago's 37 high schools to emphasize vocational instead of academic training. Eventually, the paper said, the plan will cause replacement of 50 per cent and probably more of the present staff of 4338 teachers with instructors trained in vocational classroom work. The plan, which the paper said was intended to meet the present urgent need of trade and industry for skilled workers, will affect more than 90 per cent of the 130,000 youth who annually attend high school.

The American said the change would shift emphasis from 80 per cent academic subjects to 80 per cent vocational courses. It listed other phases of the program as:

12-Month School Year
Establishment of a 12-month school year for trade schools. Alteration of requirements for candidates as vocational teachers by requiring specific training before award of certificates.

No academic teacher vacancies caused by death, retirement or resignation will be filled henceforth. Vocational teachers will be taken on as fast as they can be obtained.

To fill present academic needs, only temporary appointment of teachers will be made to allow easy removal of them without additional cost to taxpayers in order to achieve the ultimate vocational program.

Construction of factory type buildings adjacent to every high school structure to allow for practical shop training in trade and industry.

Conversion of five technical schools into three year schools, students wishing to enroll in them being required to take freshman work in other schools. This will be started definitely next September.

The smallest heart of all predatory animals is that of the lion.

by that remarkable document American newspaper readers wouldn't have learned much about the war until after the armistice.

Sid Silverman, editor of Variety, a magazine known as "the bible of show business," would probably be shocked if he learned there was a theater man in the United States who has never heard of the publication. This column discovered one the other day. But, of course, Variety only has been published during the last 32 years.

Folks over here who are still concerned because two Armistice days were observed in November a few years back may be interested in the fact that Paris began celebrating the end of the war in October, 1918.

Girl Scouts

Scribes Relate Activities of Local Organization

The following article is one of the outstanding ones, written by a registered Scout, for Girl Scout Week:

"What I Think a Girl Scout Should Be"

I have been a Scout for a year and in that time I've seen girls who were a credit to this fine organization and I've also seen girls who neither benefited or were benefited, by belonging to Girl Scouts. This was no fault of the organization or of the leader, but of the girls themselves.

I think a Girl Scout should be an example of clean, decent girlhood. She should co-operate with the leader and do what she is asked to do for community service. She should also wear the Scout uniform to all Scout meetings, attend all meetings possible, and show interest in the Scout activities.

If a girl doesn't care to do these things, I think the organization would be better off without her. Nadine Golos, Troop I.

The following excerpts of letters written by the following Scouts: Carol Heckman, Virginia Dodd, Sarah Hasselberg and Ellen Finney.

I think every girl should be a Girl Scout because scouting builds character. Each time I came from a meeting I have been doing the following: Making use of my leisure time, learning how to have fun without the usual radio, movies, etc. This is accomplished through camping, hiking, and handicraft. Learning responsibility through planning social affairs, and programs.

We feel also that the Girl Scout rank, and badge requirements are a very necessary part of the program, and feel assured that sometime in our lives we shall have an opportunity to make use of our knowledge.

Troop I. The girls of our troop that are interested in doing puppets are going to have an opportunity to work with them, under the direction of Miss Naomi Woll. Journalism is also being taken up. The chorus group already shows what the girls are capable of doing along this line, and has promise of being a great success.

The troop had its Halloween party on the evening of October 30, at the Legion hall, to which over 50 attended and a merry time was had by all. Games and dancing were the main diversions of the evening, after which refreshments were served.

Jeanne Moore, Troop I.

Troop II. The scribe has sent in a report of their activities for the month. Mrs. George Smith, leader, with the assistance of Miss Avis Ortgiesen, have been assisting the girls with their Tenderfoot and second class work. At one of the meetings a report of the International camp, and Camp Andrea, New York, was given, and the girls asked many interesting questions regarding the manner in which a girl may attend.

Marilyn Hoyle, Scribe.

Troop VII. Met Monday evening, November 1, 1937, at South Central school. As a part of the meeting, the girls went on a nature hike. Everyone who attended the birthday Halloween party at the Robert Warner home last Saturday was still excited.

Donna Marie Hanneken, Scribe.

Troop VIII. Our troop had a

Halloween party instead of a troop meeting last Wednesday evening. Attendance was 100 per cent with numerous guests. Mrs. Brainerd and Mrs. Roy Finney assisted Mrs. Rubey Captain.

Sarah Hasselberg, Scribe.

Troop IX. Our troop Halloween party was a success, and now we are planning on doing some good hard work. We have eight new Scouts in our troop.

P. T. A. Sponsoring "Back To School" Night, Nov. 17th

The Dixon high school P. T. A. is sponsoring a "Back to School Night for Parents" at the high school Wednesday, November 17, at 7:45 P. M.

Parents of high school students are asked to report to the homeroom of their son or daughter, where directions will be given for the rest of the program. Student guides will help the parents find the various rooms.

Five class periods of ten minutes each will be held, and the parents may visit the classrooms of their own child during each period. At the end of the fifth period, refreshments will be served in the library.

The officers of the P. T. A. and the committee hope that the parents take advantage of this opportunity to see the building and to meet the teachers and other parents.

Regular visiting days will be held Thursday and Friday, November 18 and 19, when parents may visit any classes during the day.

South Dixon Unit Of Home Bureau Enjoys Meeting

South Dixon Unit of the Home Bureau met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Peter Hoyle. The meeting opened with a song by Mrs. Beard, roll call and reports.

The lessons, "Meat Selection" by Miss Coleman and "Braising" by Mrs. Mennenga were both enjoyed. A nice sum was realized from the grab bag.

Light refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. William Hoyle.

The December meeting with Mrs. John Mennenga will start the all day meetings with a scramble dinner at noon. The minor lesson will be given at 11 A. M. A 10-cent Christmas exchange will also be one of the features of the day.

"GROWING PAINS" TO BE PRESENTED BY DRAMATIC CLUB

"Growing Pains" a three-act comedy of modern youth will be presented by the Dramatic club of Dixon high school at 8 o'clock to-night in the high school auditorium. The audience is assured of an evening of good entertainment with plenty of laughs in this play which is presented by special permission with Samuel French.

Practical Club Entertained at Tuesday Meeting

Mrs. D. G. Palmer at 403 N. De ment avenue was hostess to the ladies of the Practical club on Tuesday afternoon. The usual business meeting was held with reading of the minutes and the roll call followed by a very interesting article on "Dry Ice" given by Mrs. Grace Stephan.

The art of cold production by dry ice has been developed rapidly in the last decade where the freezing process itself must be accomplished with the utmost speed and which can be done only if the freezing medium is at a very low temperature. Dry ice is solid carbon dioxide with a dense snow-like appearance having a temperature of 109 degrees below zero and one pound is as effective as 15 pounds of water ice. Dry ice freezing is a stepping stone to prosperity and would give us a new outlook on the future.

Mrs. C. A. Mellott also gave a well-prepared paper on outdoor living rooms in her capable manner. She told of the veranda during the Victorian age, the Dutch stoop, the portico, the Southern type of wing pavilion, the garden house equipped with electrical appliances, the pergola used by the Greeks and the most popular sun room with its linoleum, scatter rugs and frameless pictures and folding screens. Mrs. Mellott's description of the various rooms and appropriate furnishings which made a comfortable and attractive place to enjoy was most interesting.

A social hour followed during which the hostess, assisted by her daughter, served tempting refreshments.

Polly Woodyatt is Bride of Martin J. Judge Early Today

Miss Polly Woodyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Woodyatt of 812 E. Chamberlain street, and Martin J. Judge, son of Mrs. Catherine Judge, 216 E. Seventh street, were united in marriage at St. Anne's Catholic church at 6 o'clock this morning by the Rev. Fr. C. W. Caine.

They were attended by Mrs. Boyd Grush and Joseph Judge, the latter a brother of the bridegroom. The charming bride was attired in dahlia colored lace and wore gardenias, while her bridesmaid wore dark blue and a corsage of yellow rose buds.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served the members of the immediate families at the home of the bride's parents, after which the newlyweds left for a wedding trip in the east returning from which they will be at home to their many friends at 515 Highland avenue after Dec. 1. Their many friends unite in wishes for their happiness and prosperity.

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. IAGO GALDSTON
Colds Prevention—II

Good nutrition, adequate rest, fresh air, proper clothing and the avoidance of chilling the body, notably the feet, head and neck; help substantially in preventing colds and minimizing the damage they do when contracted.

By "good nutrition" we have particularly in mind adequate vitamin intake. The claim that certain vitamins are specifically cold preventives is not upheld by experience. But it is true that individuals suffering from vitamin deficiencies are likely to be more susceptible to cold infections.

Particularly attention should be paid to the intake of vitamins A,

At a meeting of the Dixon Physicians' club at the Nachusa House last evening plans were made for the entertainment of the Central Illinois Medical Society in this city on Dec. 6.

C and D, and for good measure, vitamin B. These vitamins are contained in whole grain cereals, in the green leafy vegetables, in the citrus fruits, in tomato juice, in eggs, milk, cheese and butter fats, and in fatty fish foods. To make certain of an adequate vitamin D intake, it is a wise precaution to add to the diet cod liver oil or one of the cod liver oil equivalents.

One does not and should not take vitamins for vitamins' sake. The so-called vitamin concentrates are to be used only on the doctor's prescription.

To insure an adequate vitamin intake, one need only build his daily diet around the stable foods—whole grain cereals, eggs, milk, butter, cheese, fruits, green vegetables, plus meats and fish.

Of adequate rest and fresh air we need not say much, except that excessive fatigue lowers vitality and resistance to infection.

Attention to proper clothing, so as to avoid chilling the body, is an important item in the prevention of colds. Exposure of the feet and head and neck regions to chilling temperatures causes a corresponding sudden change in blood circulation. It has been shown that such quick changes in circulation lower the vitality of the mucous membranes of the respiratory system. The barriers against infection are thus weakened, and colds may follow.

One of the earliest scientific observations on this score was made by Louis Pasteur. He found that chickens are ordinarily resistant to the anthrax germs, but chickens that have been immersed in cold water become susceptible to them. Common experience has many times shown that a cold is likely to follow exposure to cold drafts, and after one's feet have been cold and wet for some time.

FARM AID IS HANDICAP TO BUDGET BALANCE

Morgenthau Urges That Appropriations Be Reduced

Washington, Nov. 11—(AP)—An abundance of cotton, corn, wheat and other crops created the possibility today that the cost of next year's farm stabilization program may run into big figures.

This possibility—born of official estimates of huge crop surpluses—became a troublesome factor in the administration's expressed efforts to balance the budget. In the past, demands for financial aid to farmers have been in direct ratio to the size of price-depressing crop surpluses.

Secretary Morgenthau, in an economy speech at New York last night, declared agricultural appropriations were one of the governmental costs that must be reduced.

Farm Co-operation Needed

More than $900,000,000 of federal funds went out to farmers this year, he said, and demands for still larger sums already are being made for next year. Morgenthau added:

"Balancing the budget is as much in the interest of farmers as in the interest of other parts of our population; and it requires the co-operation of the farmer as well as of other sections of the public."

Crop estimates of recent days have not been good news for those struggling with the farm problem. The corn yield yesterday was placed at 2,651,393,000 bushels, the largest since 1932.

Surplus Causes Concern

Earlier in the week cotton production was estimated above 18,000,000 bales, or 6,000,000 more than probably will be needed for domestic and export requirements.

A record acreage seeded to winter wheat is causing some concern. This year's wheat crop was larger than needed.

Simultaneously with these reports and Morgenthau's speech, an apparent impasse developed in the house agriculture committee over whether processing taxes should be levied to finance the proposed crop control program.

This dispute and dissension over marketing quotas brought predictions that the farm bill would not be ready for the House until the second week of the special session of Congress, which begins Monday.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

Aurora—(AP)—A coroner's jury recommended that Andrew M. Russell, 41, whose car struck and killed Bernard N. Trapp, 61, on Oct. 31, be held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter. Russell was released on $1,000 bond, pending a preliminary hearing tomorrow.

ENDURING PEACE BEST TRIBUTE TO WORLD WAR DEAD

Futility Of War More Vivid Each Anniversary Says Doherty

Washington, Nov. 11—(AP)—Daniel J. Doherty, national commander of the American Legion, called today for "the enthronement of an enduring peace" as the best tribute to the memory of American soldiers who died in the World War.

Speaking in Armistice Day services at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery, Doherty said:

"Each new anniversary but brings to us more vividly the realization of the futility of war. 'We can pay no greater honor to our departed and to our disabled comrades than to bring to attainment the ideals for which they fought, suffered and died.'

"It is our sacred obligation to carry on their fight to protect the peace and security of America."

To that end, Doherty said, the American Legion asks for removal of the profit motive from war, an adequate national defense, and "a proper policy of neutrality."

Louis Johnson, assistant secretary of war, spoke on the same program. He said the United States hopes to remain at peace but will be ready if it is called upon to defend itself against a foreign foe.

Johnson said it was to be deplored that other nations have not shared the desire of the United States for peace.

War Is Rampant

In Europe and Asia streets are strewn with dead and dying, fields are devastated, buildings destroyed, business paralyzed and industry crushed while columns of hate and fury spread their poison," he said.

"Who can say in the midst of such international chaos that we may never again be called upon to defend ourselves?"

If such a moment comes, let us now serve notice upon any future aggressor that he will find a nation united in its efforts, an army and navy organized to defend us and a civilian population mobilized behind the lines to make good the efforts of the man at the front."

As in other years, the program called for President Roosevelt to place a wreath on the symbolic tomb on the heights above the Potomac river.

There were services and wreaths also at the tomb of Woodrow Wilson, the wartime president who lies buried in the National Cathedral at Washington. American war mothers and the nurses who ministered to the wounded also were not forgotten.

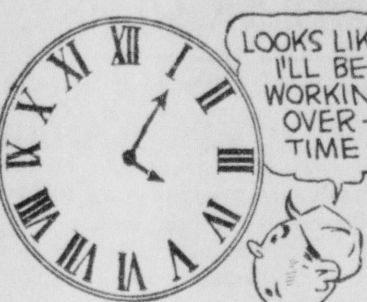

All veterans groups, in Washington and throughout the country, joined in observing the anniversary.

At New York, General John J. Pershing came home from a memorial journey to the European battlefields where he led American

The president of the bank was greatly perturbed because the face of one of the bank's most reliable employees was very, very dirty and something had to be done about it. This employee was famous for giving accurate information to many people at all hours of the day. So the window washer was sent out to wash the face of the big clock that hung out over the corner of the busy streets. Unfortunately, the screws were loose and the face of the clock fell to the sidewalk and broke into four pieces. It was noticed that the numerals on each piece added up to twenty. Where was the face broken? We warn you to give this consideration or it will baffle you.

END OF FEDERAL SPENDING URGED BY MORGENTHAU

Advocates Cutting Next Year's Government Expenditures

New York, Nov. 11—(AP)—The government was committed today through its chief fiscal officer to a program of budget-balancing retrenchment to meet the drop in business activity.

Pump priming—big outpourings of federal money such as were used against the depression—was out so far as he was concerned, said Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau in a speech here last night.

He advocated matching income and outgo by cutting nearly $700,000,000 from next year's expenditures, mainly in the fields of highways, relief, public works and agricultural aid, and not by raising taxes.

In no event, he added, would the administration "allow anyone to starve," nor would it drop any of its broad policies.

Senator Byrd Speaks

He spoke before the Academy of Political Science, and a small section of his dinner-jacketed audience was openly and vocally hostile. The audience gave two standing ovations to Senator Byrd, (D-Va.), who, sharing the same platform, denounced the Washington "bureaucracy" as "the most costly and wasteful x x x in the history of the United States of America."

The senator said, too, that he put no faith in prophecies that "a balanced budget is on the way."

"On the contrary," he added, "I predict that on July 1, 1938, the estimated deficit of $895,000,000 will be at least twice that sum."

The Wall Street effect of the Morgenthau speech was expected to be delayed because this is a market holiday. Various of the no-tables who heard him declined comment. One, S. Parker Gilbert, a Morgan partner, said his belief was that the secretary would give "a fair trial" to the proposals for repeal or modification of the undistributed profits tax, of which many businessmen have complained.

Speech Jeered

Morgenthau departed momentarily from his speech because of scattered jeering noises which arose in the audience when he remarked that at no time during the depression had the treasury had difficulty in borrowing whatever money was needed.

"Ho ho!" shouted a man in the audience.

"You try it," the secretary answered without heart, and there was applause.

Morgenthau said an unbalanced budget had been a deliberate federal policy to "meet a great emergency" during the depression years, and he added that while of late business indices were showing "a declining tendency," the worst emergency was over.

As to the problems of the present, he added, "many measures are required for their solution," and one of these—"but only one"—was a "determined movement toward a balanced budget."

In the same connection, he set his face against the proposal of "some persons" that there be "another great spending program x x x to ward off the risk of another business depression."

Referring indirectly to attacks on such taxes as the undivided profits levy, he said in slow tones of reassurance: "We want to adjust inequalities and remedy deficits in the tax laws x x x if we find the operation of any particular tax is unfair, we stand ready to say so publicly."

YOUTH FATALLY INJURED

Newport, Wash., Nov. 11—(AP)—Ray Adams, of Newport, was flagged on the highway near here to take a dying youth to the hospital. The boy was his son, Esbie Adams, 21, fatally injured when his automobile overturned.

Ptolemy, in 150 A. D., made the first gazetteer, but his work was lost until the 15th century.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

JOHNSON SPEECH ON DISEASES IS CUT OUT BY NBC

New York, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Blunt-speaking General Hugh S. Johnson and National Broadcasting company officials today locked horns over the role of radio in the war against social disease.

The NBC officials after a hurried conference last night cancelled Johnson's regular commercial sponsored broadcast because it dealt in plain terms with the ravages of "public enemies Nos. 1 and 2" — syphilis and gonorrhea. A 15-minute "stand-in" musical program was substituted.

The radio officials later issued a statement saying they had tried unsuccessfully to reach General Johnson before the broadcast and added:

"The NBC is in entire sympathy with the war on social diseases, but has not yet found a way for radio to contribute to this campaign without seriously embarrassing the family group."

The former chief of the defunct NRA said federal authorities had sanctioned radio discussion of the campaign against social disease and asserted he thought the NBC had "changed its policy" after permitting U. S. Surgeon General Thomas Parran to use its facilities recently in a nationally broadcast address on the same topic.

"I know it had been changed in respect with nearly every reputable newspaper and magazine in the country," he added.

NEW YORK SCION SERIOUSLY ILL AFTER WEDDING

Hickory, N. C., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Basil A. (Pat) Ryan, son of a wealthy New York family, was reported in a serious condition today at a hospital to which he was admitted a few hours after his marriage to 21-year-old Martha Barkley.

Meanwhile at Morganton, home of the bride, it was disclosed by Mrs. Nina Ross, Burke county sheriff, that a warrant had been issued three weeks ago charging an unemployed store clerk there with paternity of Miss Barkley's two months' old son.

Ryan, 28-year-old "amateur" coach and sportsman, has been a patient in the hospital since he was taken Friday morning from a hotel where he and his bride registered. Physicians declined to elaborate on the patient's condition other than to say it was serious.

Hospital attendants said Ryan had been allowed no visitors, but that Mrs. Ryan, a pretty, sandy-haired blonde and former high school student leader, had called at the hospital several times.

Mrs. Ross said the youth named in the Morganton warrant was Ned A. Parks. She said the warrant had been sworn by a member of the Barkley family. She added that Parks, 24-year-old former clerk, had not been found.

Ryan, a grandson and one of the principal heirs of the late Thomas Fortune Ryan, who left a $140,000,000 estate, came to Hickory about two months ago. He spent most of his time as "volunteer" coach of a Hickory football team.

Has Foot Cut Off By Freight Train

Findlay, Ill., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Caught between rails, William Forbes, 40, suffered the loss of his left foot under a Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad freight train here today.

The radiator cap of Forbes' automobile fell onto the tracks as he bumped over the crossing. He stopped to pick it up and his foot caught between the rail and the crossing rail. He was unable to extricate himself as the train bore down on him.

Radio Caught Outbreak The British Broadcasting Company caught the outbreak in Whitehall in a television broadcast. It was the first time in history that such an event had been reported by television.

Many other nations of Europe paid tribute to those who died two decades ago—honoring them while devastating wars in China and Spain clouded the peace of 1918.

While the legions of today marched in London and Paris, statesmen in Brussels awaited Japan's answer to a gesture toward peace.

Italy observed her own Armistice Day last Wednesday. Germany did not celebrate today. Former Kaiser Wilhelm, in his Doorn exile, ignored the anniversary.

The French observance included a gigantic military and aerial review, centered about the Arch of Triumph. Combining modern troops with former World War fighters, French officials directed a demonstration of the nation's military power.

Other Incidents In London an early morning fire damaged the former Belgrave hotel where thousands of American troops were billeted on their way to the western front. The building, near the Victoria Station, had been deserted pending reconstruction.

In Poland, Armistice Day was a compulsory holiday for the first time.

While banners flew and bands played elsewhere in Europe, Italy held ceremonies commemorating the 68th birthday of King Vittorio Emanuele. The king has occupied the throne for 37 years—longer than any other living European monarch.

Troops of the Rome garrison, 10,000 strong, paraded in celebration of the anniversary. They halted in mass formation before the national monument built in honor of the king's grandfather and shouted homage to Premier Mussolini.

Typhoon Sweeps Manila, Several Boats Aground

Manila, Nov. 11.—(AP)—A typhoon roared across Luzon island today, driving a ship ashore flooding Manila streets, upsetting a native boat and toppling power lines.

The British freighter Kenilworth, hard ashore on point pinandun, southeast of Manila, was pounded by heavy seas while two other steamers, the Shouling and Atlantic Gulf, stood by helplessly.

President Manuel Quezon's yacht, the Casina, rescued the crew of six from a native boat swamped by high seas inside Manila's harbor. Larger vessels moored in the harbor maintained fuel heads of steam, ready for an emergency.

The storm disrupted communications with nearby provinces through which the center of the typhoon raged.

Many Manila street lights were blown out.

Attention Directed To Paradox of Want In Midst of Plenty

Springfield, Nov. 11.—(AP)—In his annual Thanksgiving day proclamation, Governor Horner urged citizens to "turn their thoughts to the paradox of want in the midst of plenty."

"Were it not for the faulty system of distribution which man has created," he said, "none would lack the essentials to his happiness and comfort."

"So this Thanksgiving season let us hope that all citizens of Illinois turn their thoughts to the paradox of want in the midst of plenty; malnutrition on the part of some of our people when our granaries and warehouses are filled to the overflowing."

METHODISTS TO OPEN CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS

Port Wayne, Ind., Nov. 11.—(AP)—An international meeting to be held in Chicago February 3 will start a campaign for the re-enlistment of approximately 5,000,000 members of the Methodist Episcopal church in the United States and foreign countries.

More than 4,000 representatives of the 20,000 M. E. churches will participate in the meeting, called "A United Council on the Future of Faith and Service."

The denomination's board of bishops, attending a fall conference here, announced the reaffirmation would reach a climax Sunday, May 22, 1938, in a nation-wide observance.

American Methodists will join with those of 40 other nations the following Tuesday in a world radio observance of the 200th anniversary of John Wesley's conversion.

Senior Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes predicted today the Chicago meeting would be "one of the great Protestant religious movements of the decade."

LaFollette Asks For More Spending

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The administration, pledged anew by Secretary Morgenthau to a program of curtailed expenditures to balance the budget, ran squarely into a congressional demand for increased spending.

Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis.), a spokesman for the self-styled congressional liberal bloc and a supporter of President Roosevelt, declared that additional spending was needed to "stem the downward spiral" in business. He advocated taxes to finance it.

Specifically, LaFollette recommended an increase in WPA expenditures to provide a job for every employable man.

Hunters will find "No Hunting" signs for sale at The Evening Telegraph office.

CORN BOOSTED BILLION BUSHELS IN ESTIMATE

New Figures Above Average For Period Of 1928-32

Washington, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The agriculture department estimated this year's corn crop at 2,651,393,000 bushels.

A month ago the department's corn crop board put indicated production at 2,561,936,000 bushels. Last year's corn crop was 1,529,327,000 bushels and the five-year, 1928-32, average was 2,554,772,000 bushels.

The department estimated potato production at 391,707,000 bushels, compared with 398,785,000 bushels indicated a month ago, 329,997,000 bushels produced last year, and a five-year average production of 372,115,000 bushels.

Preliminary estimates of other important crops, made previously by the board included:

Wheat Exceeds Average Wheat, 886,895,000 bushels, compared with 789,100,000 last year, and a five-year average of 864,532,000 bushels.

Oats, 1,152,433,000 bushels, compared with 789,100,000 last year, and a 1,215,102,000-bushel five-year average.

The preliminary estimate of production of corn in important producing states follows:

Corn—New York 24,408,000; Ohio 166,005,000; Indiana 209,790,000; Illinois 434,746,000; Michigan, 58,320,000; Wisconsin 76,864,000; Minnesota 168,974,000; Iowa 496,620,000; Missouri 124,308,000; North Dakota 17,804,000; South Dakota 45,748,000; Nebraska 83,106,000; Kansas 32,280,000; Kentucky 79,482,000; Oklahoma 30,636,000, and Texas 72,048,000.

ELIXIR TRAGEDY SHOWS NEED FOR LAWS OF CHECK

Seven Illinois citizens lost their lives recently due to the distribution of an elixir of sulphamamide. However innocent the producers and distributors, these deaths point tragically to the need for federal legislation ensuring a governmental check on such products before they are distributed to a helpless public.

Declared Miss Marguerite M. Wells, President of the National League of Women Voters.

In a letter today to Mrs. George G. Bogert, President of the Illinois League of Women Voters, Miss Wells expressed the hope that "to producer and consumer alike the calamity will serve as a lesson and that Congress may now be supported by a public opinion united in demands for the fullest possible safeguards against a repetition of this recent experience. There should be no further delay in which history may repeat itself."

"For four years," Miss Wells continued, "the League of Women Voters has been vainly urging upon Congress adequate regulation of food, drug and cosmetic products. In the face of opposition of special interests efforts have been unsuccessful, an adequate law has not been enacted, and one measure of protection after another has been whittled away from pending bills."

The bill that passed the Senate at its last session and which was pending in the House at adjournment had been shorn long since of original provisions that would have protected the public against the tragedies of this elixir.

FIGHT FIRE IN MINE

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Plans to place a large force of men at work fighting the fire in the Von Storch mine of the Penn Anthracite Collieries Company were rushed today by city, state and company officials. The blaze is behind a caved-in area, measuring nearly 400 feet.

ALLEGED COUNTERFEITER

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Paul Ogemiller, 24, of Centralia, was seized by U. S. secret service operatives at Bloomington, Ill., and brought here for arraignment before a U. S. Commissioner on charges of counterfeiting and attempting to pass bogus 10 cent pieces.

Family Declines Former Premier's Burial in Abbey

London, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Ramsay MacDonald's family today declined an offer that he be buried in historic Westminster Abbey.

The sub-dean of the abbey said the family, while appreciative of the abbey authorities' offer, felt they must refuse because they wished burial to take place in MacDonald's native Lossiemouth.

MacDonald, who rose from poverty to become three times premier of Britain, died Tuesday aboard a cruise ship taking him to South America. Tomorrow would have been his 72nd birthday.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

the British, and building up American public opinion. The latter was partially successful but the former fell flat.

The British indulged in effusive speech-making, but that was all. Behind the scenes they refused to do anything. Both Hull and the president have been irked with them ever since. That was why Norman Davis was sent to Brussels with his fingers crossed. He was told to go the limit in regard to Japan—only provided that there was some indication of real British co-operation with the U. S.—but to be extremely careful not to get the United States out on a limb.

What he is telling them is to put up or shut up; that they have been talking for years about U. S. co-operation in the world's peace machinery, and that if they don't want to co-operate now when their own interests as well as those of the United States are at stake, they can consider the United States absolutely out of the picture in the future.

If things work out this way, and if the Brussels conference fails, Roosevelt probably will rush a billion dollar armament program to Congress—chiefly naval. This is another reason for the special session.

Merry-Go-Round

Roosevelt policy in the Far East has been completely consistent with American precedents, both Republican and Democratic. Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state under Hoover, tried even more vigorously than Roosevelt to get European co-operation in blocking Japan's conquest of Manchuria. The British promised it but double-crossed him. The Germans and Italians, even as early as 1931, were hesitant about going on record against conquest.

Thanks in part to the British, the Japanese were able to get away with the first real precedent for conquest since the World War, and others have now followed suit. Stimson gave credit to William Jennings Bryan, a Democrat, for moulding the Far Eastern policy which Stimson followed. Although the Chinese are putting up a heroic resistance, military experts say they probably will not be able to hold out during a protracted campaign, due to lack of munitions.

GOVERNOR URGES STRONG DEFENSE TO ASSURE PEACE

Horner Says Peace Depends On Work For Unemployed

Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Urging an adequate national defense, Governor Horner declared today that "America wants peace; demands peace; and will have peace, if she has to fight to obtain it."

"The task is not an easy one," he said in an address prepared for delivery at the dedication of the new state armory here.

"Complete pacifism has not saved the Chinese; it did not protect Ethiopia. Inability to fight, or unwillingness to fight at any cost would not assure our safety. We must be able to fight when necessary, if we are to have any reasonable expectation of peace."

Pointing to the federal neutrality act, the governor said the government "already has taken progressive and promising steps toward assuring America's avoidance of the general conflict which threatens abroad."

Must Face Situation

"The prospect for world peace is not so reassuring," he said. "We cannot and will not conceal our deep concern for grave world dangers. We cannot build a wall around ourselves or hide our heads in the sand. We must go forward with all our energy to stress and to strive for international peace."

Citing a swing in the country's foreign policy from isolation to internationalism, Mr. Horner said he believed a little of both would be the correct course to follow.

"The theme to which our nation is now committed," he said, "is that this country shall remain at a state of peace with the world, unless every other means than war has been exhausted, to defend ourselves from aggression, and protect the integrity and ideals and the honor of the people of the United States."

Hits at Dictators

The governor denounced as ruthless, the policies of foreign dictators, who he said have built up powerful war machines and boast about it.

He also expressed the hope that "the peace attained by our victories in the economic war are to be lasting." He said that peace would not be fully secured until the problem of finding work for the unemployed is met.

The governor was forced to cancel a scheduled speech in Chicago earlier in the day. Rear Admiral Hayne Ellis, commandant of the Great Lakes naval training station, spoke after watching a parade of war veterans.

Ceremonies Elsewhere

Patriotic ceremonies were scheduled elsewhere in the state. Schools were closed and most business houses locked up at least during the programs, many downstate cities featured parades, high school football games and community dances as part of the festivities.

A tableau was presented at Bloomington before a reproduction of the Unknown Soldier's tomb. E. V. Champion, Congressman-at-large, was the chief speaker on Peoria's program. A highlight of the Rockford holiday was dedication of a new city hall, formerly a bank building.

The day held special significance for members of Waukegan's Homer Dahlinger American Legion Post, because the mortgage on the post's home was burned, marking full payment for the $32,000 structure erected five years ago.

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES FEATURE WEEKEND SLATE

Irish Against Army, Pittsburgh Vs. Cornhuskers

New York, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Mr. Gus H. (Football) Fan, that complaining fellow who pays his money and takes his chances week after week, can sit back this Saturday and enjoy hot intersectional warfare led off by the 24th anniversary of the classic Notre Dame-Army rivalry in New York.

There's potential dynamite in every battle, with the underdog swinging from his heels and hoping he connects. And there's a swell chance for the east-west and south to knock the ears off the east's reputation as intersectional giant-killer.

In the majority of cases, except for such get-togethers as Notre Dame-Army affair and Michigan-Pennsylvania at Philadelphia the easterners are favored. But in this dizzy football season, where a team is "champ" one week and "chump" the next, the odds are about as reliable as the weather.

Pitt Meets Cornhuskers

Perhaps the standout possibility for an explosion that could shake every gridiron from the rock-bound coast to the sun-kissed shores are offered at Pittsburgh where Pitt's power-packed Panthers, currently ranked No. 1 on the national list entertain the unpredictable Cornhuskers from Nebraska.

Pitt has been going like a ball of fire since the Fordham fiasco. The Huskers, on the other hand, after starting off with a terrific bang, have graduated downward to where their noise is of the popping cork variety. But there's always the chance that they might repeat

MINNESOTA TO SHOOT WORKS AGAINST CATS

Bierman Needs No Psychology To Key Gophers

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Football Coach Bernie Bierman is asking no help this week from Psychology. Bierman in the job of getting Minnesota's Golden Gophers primed to let Northwestern have it Saturday.

Bierman has been able to stick strictly to improving the blocking and tackling and the execution of plays—for the Gophers need no "keying up." At least 12 of them have been waiting for Saturday ever since Oct. 31 last year when Northwestern wrecked a perfect season for Minnesota by blasting out a 6 to 0 triumph. Another incentive is that a victory will mean one more step toward regaining the Big Ten championship, the next thing to the national title claim which Nebraska ruined.

The Gophers again drilled in secret yesterday, while preparations were made to seat a near capacity crowd of 62,000. Northwestern had good and bad news before its final long workout for the battle, Coach Lynn Waldorf learned that Mike Calvano, varsity guard who was injured last week, will not be able to play again this year. At the same time, John Haman, reserve center who was called away by the death of his father Tuesday, said he would be ready to start in place of Erv Wegner, another Wildcat casualty.

Buckeyes Plan Upset

Ohio State's plans for battle against Illinois were upset when Trainer Ken Stark said Johnny Rabb, first string fullback, would not be able to play because of a knee injury suffered in the Indiana tussle last week. The Illini disappointed Coach Bob Zuppke by failing to gain consistently against the freshmen and allowing the yearlings to break away for several long runs, using Buckeye formations.

Indiana, eyeing a chance to land runnerup honors in the title race, hustled through a highly satisfactory drill, their last hard assignment before meeting Iowa. Coach Irl Tubs devoted Iowa's practice to polishing up the forward pass offense and defense. Harry Stuhldreher was "terribly discouraged" over the manner in which the freshmen pushed the Wisconsin varsity about with Purdue plays. The Boilermakers worked under lights to add power to those same plays in getting ready for the Badgers.

Michigan, the Big Ten's representative this week in intersectional battle, again concentrated on its offense which has been revised for the meeting with Pennsylvania. Chicago's varsity put in another day of work in preparing for the Illinois game next week, while the reserves drilled to get ready for their big moment—the starting assignment against Beloit Saturday.

Notre Dame goes into the Army fray a 2 to 1 favorite of Broadway bettors. But the stories from South Bend tell of a squad crippled by the manhandling of Pitt and Minnesota, while Army is at or near full strength.

Hasn't Got It

Penn. upset victims of Penn State in their latest trip to the post, the Quakers are tangling with a Michigan team that's riding a three-game winning streak.

In the other east-west battle, Carnegie Tech's Skibos, who upset Duquesne last week, meet Michigan State, who did the same thing to Temple the last time out.

Otherwise, Saturday's card is headed sectionally by such traditional fusties as the get-together of the Yales and the Princetons in the east; the Big Ten struggles of Minnesota-Northwestern and Ohio State-Illinois in the mid-west; Alabama's battle with Georgia Tech in the Southeastern conference; the North Carolina-Duke doings in the Southern; Rice vs. Texas Aggies and Baylor against Southern Methodist in the Southwest; and California vs. Oregon on the Pacific coast.

"ILLIBUCK" WAS ILLINOIS, OHIO STATE MASCOT

Teams Contended For Him Like Old Oaken Bucket, Brown Jug

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 11.—Michigan and Minnesota battle for the little brown jug. Purdue and Indiana struggle for the old oaken bucket. And Illinois and Ohio have their "Illibuck."

"Illibuck" is a turtle—that is, he was once. But the wear and tear of passing back and forth from Ohio State to Illinois as a trophy for their traditional annual game was too much, even for a hardy marine reptile.

So "Illibuck" passed to the bourn which awaits all good turtles, and his successor today is a wooden replica.

Back in 1925 undergraduates at Illinois and Ohio State decided that the historic Buckeye-Illini game should have a gage of battle. A turtle was selected as an animal with sufficient promise of longevity to last through the years of future engagements of the two state institutions. The hopeful students saw visions of a hoary turtle fifty years in the future, carved with the scores of past games.

Honorary societies were selected as custodians of "Illibuck," so

STRUGGLE FOR ALL-AMERICAN HONORS FIERCE

Washington Center Raises Havoc In Bears' Game

By ALAN GOULD

New York, Nov. 11.—(AP)—This is no spot for an All-America armistice, particularly with this week's roundup revealing the exploits of many previously unsung heroes as well as the latest bids of established collegiate luminaries for all-star fame and recognition.

On the west coast, for the first time this season, California's mighty Golden Bears yielded team as well as individual honors to a rival array, Washington's Huskies. Though escaping with nothing more damaging to their prestige than a scoreless tie, the Bears were somewhat manhandled.

An outstanding individual reason for this upset, our coast scouts report, was Bud Erickson, Washington's senior center, who outplayed his renowned rival, Bob Herwig, and generally raised havoc with the Bears' attack. Erickson called for everything from a five to seven-man line in checking California's hitherto unstoppable attack.

Conspicuous Performers

Peter Markov, at tackle, and Frank Peters, Chicago boys playing end for Washington, were other conspicuous performers.

The chief explanation for Rice's spectacular comeback in the Southwest conference appears to be Ernie Lain, 212-pound halfback. Injured and kept out of his team's first three games, in which Rice failed to tally a point, Lain has been the sparkplug in three straight victories. Rated the best conference blocker, Lain is also a star passer, completing tosses for three touchdowns last Saturday against Arkansas.

Hugh Wolfe of Texas, backfield star of a team that had been operating in reverse for weeks, enjoyed the heroic role for the first time when his field goal provided the margin of victory over previously unbeaten Baylor.

In the Big Ten, Michigan's Stark Ritchie tallied the two belated touchdowns that enabled the Wolverines to beat Chicago and register their third straight one-point triumph. An Illinois backfield sub, Tony Mazeika, led the scoring drive that upset Northwestern. Hero of Indiana's conquest of Ohio State was George Miller, who played a decisive role at center, despite a fractured thumb, and kicked a field goal.

Three of the outstanding All-America backfield candidates, Clint Frank of Yale, Whizzer White of Colorado and Marshall Goldberg of Pittsburgh, turned in spectacular performances last Saturday. Frank rushed over all three of Yale's touchdowns. White reminded Rocky Mountain observers of Dutch Clark in his palmy days in tallying all 17 points for Colorado against Utah, while Goldberg was the sparkplug of Pitt's power attack against Notre Dame.

Other Backs

Other backs in this week's all-star roundup included; MacLeod, Dartmouth; Witkowski, Fordham; Fenton, Auburn; Cafego, Tennessee; Schindler, Southern California; Todd, Texas A. & M.; Rohm, Louisiana State; Woskowski, and Cruver, Washington; Chapman, California; Davis, Indiana; Gooestein, Chicago; Patrick and Stebins, Pittsburgh; Pupils, Notre Dame; Robbins, Arkansas; O'Brien, Texas Christian; Graybell, Oregon; Shu, Virginia Military; Berlinski, North Carolina State; Kilgore, Rlabama; Pingel, Michigan State, and Savage, Manhattan.

Johann Sebastian Bach is especially noted for his work in counterpoint.

christened to combine the names, "Illini" and "Buckeyes," Sachem, Illinois Junior society, became the local keeper.

Couldn't Take It

But, sad to say, "Illibuck" could not take it. He traveled to Columbus in a suitcase in 1925 and after seeing Red Grange lead the Illini to triumph in his last college appearance, returned to Illinois to spend the rest of the year in the basement of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house. The fraternity men declare that every effort was made to make his life pleasant and to appeal to his digestive imagination with the best diet that science dictates for turtles, but to no avail. "Illibuck" died prematurely.

There are those who insinuate that his custodians drew a long sigh of relief as they had found taking care of a big turtle was no mean

CARAS ABLE TO INFLUENCE CUE MEET RATINGS

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Jimmy Caras, of Wilmington, Del., can't win the world's pocket billiard championship, but his play today will have a lot to do with who will.

Tonight, Caras meets Willie Mosconi, of Philadelphia, who jumped into undisputed possession of first place last night when Irving Crane, of Livonia, N. Y., beat the defending champion, Ralph Greenleaf of New York.

A victory for Caras would topple the diminutive Mosconi out of first and put the 23-year-old Crane and Greenleaf in a tie for first place, provided, of course, Greenleaf beats Andrew Ponzi, of Philadelphia, in the last of today's four matches.

MAX WELCOMED WITH OPEN ARMS BY RING PILOTS

Jacobs Counts On Teuton To Keep Garden Business Lively

New York, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The red carpet has been rolled out for Max Schmeling, pugilism's gift to the steamship lines, as he comes back doggedly today, once more looking and longing for that heavy weight championship he mislaid in Madison Square Garden bowl more than four autumns ago.

Mike Jacobs and the other big shots aren't dodging the smiling, persistent German this time like they did last June when he showed up for his "phantom" fight with Jim Braddock.

This time Max comes hailed (if not heiled) like the first robin, harbinger of a promising winter season of boxing that will keep a lot of the boys off the cuff and as personal advance agent for his million-dollar scrap with Champion Joe Louis next June.

At the ripe old fighting age of 32 the Teuton is more energetic, perhaps more important to the boxing game, than when he held the title. Starting against Harry Thomas December 13 at the Garden, he's booked for two more bouts in Germany before he makes his final supreme bid to get the crown back from Louis.

His First Recent Scrap

The Thomas scrap will be Max's first since he knocked the living daylight out of Louis summer before last. His belief that he can cool the Negro every time they meet has never wavered since that night.

"Once a sucker for a right, always a sucker," he sums it up. It's easy to explain why Promoter Mike Jacobs loves Max far better in December than he did in May. Mike has contracted for Madison Square Garden 16 nights during the winter, at $5,000 per night.

SCOUT RUMOR ALUMNI PAID FOR ATHLETES

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 11.—(AP)—The inquiry at University of Michigan dealing with possible subsidization of athletes turned today toward a rumor that alumni money was paid to some promising freshmen football players through an Ann Arbor manufacturing concern.

Prof. Ralph W. Aigler, chairman of the board in control of physical education, said this matter would be investigated along with "other rumors now prevalent on the campus at Michigan."

The story had it that the manufacturing concern paid certain student athletes at a higher rate than other employees, the difference in money being made up through a fund controlled by individual alumni acting on their own initiative.

"No Michigan alumni club has ever subsidized an athlete," T. Hawley Tapping, general alumni secretary, declared.

Two players on last year's freshman football team were mentioned in the rumors involving the manufacturing plant arrangement, but both students were dropped for academic deficiency the same year.

Aigler said none of the reports involved any players now participating in intercollegiate varsity athletics, nor any of the employees of the Michigan athletic association.

CANADA TAKES TEAM TITLE IN U. S. HORSE SHOW

Championship Has Eluded Canadian Teams 12 Years

New York, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Canadian persistence has been rewarded after 12 years of competition at the national horse show.

The coveted team championship in the international military competition which has eluded Canada since she first sent representatives to the national 12 years ago was hers today.

In the climax to the show which closed last night the Canadian quartet led by Capt. Stuart Bate wrested the major honor from the United States, Irish Free State, Belgium and the Netherlands. Belgium was second; and Ireland, by a toss of the coin, broke a tie with the United States to win third place.

The high spot of the entire show here, witnessed by an estimated 120,000, was the unexpectedly fine showing of the Canadian army officers in the international military competition.

New Champs Crowned

The eight days of competition saw new champions in every division.

Mrs. Loula Long Combs of Kansas City, Mo., was the ranking blue ribbon winner. Her six-horse stable finished first in 11 classes, including the harness horse division, won by Captivation.

Illinois owned stables carried off three championships. Delaine Hours from Hubert S. Silberman's Delaine farm of Glenview won the five-gaited title. Golden Avalanche, owned by Irving S. Florsheim's Red Top stables of Libertyville was best of the three-gaiters over 152 hands while A. B. Dick's Highland Cora of Gurnee replaced her famous sire, King of the Plain, as champion of the harness ponies.

The Illinois stables also finished high among the blue ribbon winners. Dick won nine, Red Top seven and Delaine six.

Unemployment Census

On November 16, the Compton post office will begin distribution of the United States unemployment census cards. Each household will receive a card and in cases where one or more workers reside at the same house, each will receive a card.

If you do not receive a card they may be obtained at the post office, where assistance will be given in filling out the form card if it is not understood. If you are wholly or partly employed you are requested to fill out your card, if you are able to work and are seeking work. All questions on the card should be answered in accordance with the instructions on the card, and all cards should be returned as soon as possible, before November 20. There is no postage required in returning these forms to the postoffice and they may be returned without charge by either giving them to the rural carrier or leaving them at the post office.

When you fill out your card, you are requested to check it carefully to see that all questions are correctly answered, as if any questions are missed or incomplete it will be necessary to contact the registrant in order that the form be completed properly, as all cards are to be completed by November 20.

THE HOW AND WHY OF THE NATIONAL UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS

A nation-wide census of all unemployed and partially unemployed persons in the United States will be taken between the dates of November 16 to 20, by act of Congress, and at the direction of President Roosevelt.

Here, in question-and-answer form, is the information you need to know about this plan.

1. WHAT IS PURPOSE OF THE UNEMPLOYMENT CENSUS?
To get an accurate count of the unemployed and partly unemployed.

2. TO WHOM WILL CARDS BE SENT?
To every family in the United States.

3. UNDER WHOSE AUSPICES IS THE CENSUS BEING TAKEN?
Congress has decreed, and the President has directed, that it be taken.

4. IS THE CENSUS COMPULSORY?
No. But every unemployed or partly unemployed person is urged to cooperate.

5. HOW WILL THE CENSUS BE CONDUCTED?
Through the facilities of the Post Office Department. Report Cards will be delivered to every family. Cards are to be returned by mail to Washington for tabulation and analysis.

6. WHEN WILL THE CENSUS BE TAKEN?
Cards will be delivered on November 16 and must be returned by MIDNIGHT NOVEMBER 20. They are already addressed and no postage is required.

7. WHO SHOULD FILL AND RETURN CARDS?
Every person who is unemployed or partly unemployed who is able to work and wants work.

8. WHAT AGE LIMITS APPLY?
There are no age limits except existing State regulations concerning workers' ages.

9. SHOULD MORE THAN ONE UNEMPLOYED PERSON IN A FAMILY RETURN A CARD?
Yes. Every unemployed member of a family should fill out and return a card, if able to work and seeking work.

10. WHERE MAY ADDITIONAL CARDS BE OBTAINED?
At any post office or from your postman.

11. WHERE CAN INFORMATION BE SECURED IN FILLING OUT CARDS?
At your post office or from your postman.

12. IS THIS CENSUS CONFINED TO AMERICAN CITIZENS?
No. All permanent residents of the United States are included.

13. IS THE INFORMATION GIVEN ON THE CARDS TO BE CONSIDERED CONFIDENTIAL?
Yes. This information will be used for unemployment statistics only.

14. SHOULD EVERY QUESTION OF THE CENSUS CARD BE ANSWERED?
Yes. To obtain the most accurate information possible, the President asks that each question be answered. Numbers 9 and 10 are particularly important. However, failure to answer some of the questions will not invalidate the card.

15. WHO IS AN "UNEMPLOYED" PERSON?
A person of either sex or any color who is not working and is able to work and seeking work.

16. WHO IS A "PARTLY UNEMPLOYED" PERSON?
A person of either sex or any color with part-time employment who is able to do more work and is looking for more work.

17. ARE PERSONS ON EMERGENCY WORK PROJECTS INCLUDED?
Yes. They should register as unemployed. A specific question, Number 2c, is provided on the Report Card for all persons working on a W.P.A., N.Y.A., C.C.C., or other emergency work project which is supported by public funds.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

The White House
Washington

TO EVERY WORKER:

If you are unemployed or partly unemployed and are able to work and are seeking work, please fill out this report card right away and mail it before midnight, Saturday, November 20, 1937. No postage stamp is needed.

The Congress directed me to take this census. It is important to the unemployed and to everyone in this land that the census be complete, honest, and accurate. If you give me the facts, I shall try to use them for the benefit of all who need and want work and do not now have it.

OPPOSITION TO RESTORATION OF MERCHANT FLEET

1,305 of 1,422 Ships in Merchant Marine Almost Obsolete

Washington, Nov. 11—(AP)—Opposition is developing to three major portions of the maritime commission's program for restoring what it termed America's "very sick" shipping industry.

The biggest dispute may result from a recommendation for a mediation board to handle maritime labor problems. The commission said a solution is essential to continued existence of the merchant fleet.

The other controversial proposals were:

That the commission be given responsibility for developing trans-oceanic air travel.

That the ban be lifted against construction of American ships abroad if savings would result.

The commission outlined its program last night in perhaps the most comprehensive survey ever made of American shipping.

Mentioned Prospect

There is prospect, it said, that private companies may build 65 new cargo ships in the next five years. They would cost $137,000,000, of which the government would pay more than $50,000,000 in subsidies.

If shipping falls off or if the companies fail to raise enough capital, the commission said, the government itself must build ships to meet foreign commerce and national defense requirements.

Contemplated replacements fall short of the number of ships ready to retire from service. Of 155 vessels in the subsidized fleet, 131 will be obsolete in five years. Of 1,422 vessels of all types in the na-

Sales Tax

Producing Million a Month More Than It Did in 1937

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 11—(AP)—The three per cent sales tax, the state government's bonanza, is producing a million dollars a month more than it did last year.

Collections from retailers now average fairly close to the $7,000,000 monthly mark, which figure has been exceeded several times.

For the first ten months of 1937, Treasury reports showed today the state collected $68,509,546 under the sales tax law.

The comparative figures for 1936 were $77,794,239 for ten months and $69,866,490 for the entire year.

Big increases during recent months are partly explained by upturns in general retail business, but finance Director S. L. Nudelman gave some of the credit to an intensive drive against delinquent and deficient merchants and shopkeepers.

The sales tax harvest, boosting balances held by Treasurer John C. Martin, is slightly embarrassing to the Horner administration, whose budget fixed $6,000,000 a month as the probable yield. The excess is being eyed by interests seeking more state cash for relief, education and other interests.

During the last six months of 1933, when the sales tax was inaugurated at two per cent, the yield was $13,149,209. The figure jumped to $39,459,714 for 1934. The 1935 figure was $53,891,043, with the rate increased to three per cent in mid-year.

The current year is certain to set a new record. The first six months of 1937 brought in $41,551,282, compared with $37,911,573 for the same period of 1936. From July 1 to November 1, the total was $26,988,264, compared with $19,882,666.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

IF ALL THE PROGENY OF A SINGLE PAIR OF HOUSE FLIES REACHED MATURITY, THEY WOULD, IF GATHERED TOGETHER AT THE END OF SUMMER, FILL A SPACE OF ABOUT A QUARTER OF A MILLION CUBIC FEET!

EVERY PLANT AND ANIMAL ON EARTH, FROM MICROBE TO MAN, WOULD DIE OF SUFFOCATION WITHOUT OXYGEN.

A HOUSE FLY may lay a half dozen or more batches of eggs in one summer, each batch numbering from 120 to 150 eggs. In warm weather the eggs hatch in from eight to 24 hours, and in five days the insects are mature, ready to breed and carry on the work of propagation.

JILL

BY MARY RAYMOND

Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JILL WENTWORTH, heroine, attractive debutante.
ALAN JEFFREY, hero, rising young artist.
HARRY WENTWORTH, Jill's stepbrother.
JACK WENTWORTH, Jill's brother.
SYLVIA SUTTON, old heiress.

Yesterday Ardath sits for Alan as a model. Alan goes for a walk when the work is nearly finished, leaving her alone in his studio. Meantime, Jill arrives and is dejectedly greeted by Ardath.

CHAPTER XIX

JILL stared at Ardath, bewildered in her eyes.

Ardath! Fresh from sleep, her hair tumbled, only half-dressed. Afterward Jill's eyes were going to be wells of miserable tears. But she was glad now—if you could call being hurt and proud and numb "glad"—that her face was not revealing her suffering. That she was able to look at Ardath coolly, proudly and with complete poise.

"Won't you come in?" Ardath asked, delighting in the situation. "No, thank you," Jill replied. "I'm sorry. I didn't know you lived here."

"I don't live here. Exactly," Ardath answered. Her voice was amused.

Jill turned and walked steadily toward her car, hearing the slamming of the door behind her.

Before she reached her car, she stumbled against a small figure. Small, bird-like eyes in a wrinkled face gazed up at her.

"You been in a kinda hurry," a quavering voice said, with a chuckle sounding in it, "and early. I didn't think pretty girls get up at seex o'clock."

Automatically, Jill pushed back the cuff of her coat. Her little jeweled watch was ticking on her arm merrily, as though nothing had happened to its owner. Both hands marked the hour. It was exactly six o'clock.

"I don't need those things," the old woman said. "I'm out every day these times. You can't fool old Rose."

JILL stood for a moment regarding the smiling old face. Rose! Once, maybe this ancient person had been young and beautiful and happy. Maybe, though, she had been as unhappy as Jill, was now. Perhaps she had found forgetfulness with the years.

On an impulse, she reached into her purse and drew out a bill, which she pressed into one claw-like hand. Then, Jill pulled the cherry-red woolen scarf from about her throat and wrapped it about the old woman's shoulders. She heard a startled exclamation.

"Hello there, old chap."

The voice had a familiar ring. It was—of course it was—Vic Ainsworth, whom he had last seen heading for the grind of an English bank.

"Vic! Where are you? I'll take a taxi."

"I'm sorry as the deuce, Alan. But I'm leaving for Louisville in a few minutes. Missed my train last night, all because a beautiful girl wanted your life's history. But it's just as well I didn't get off. There's something I think you should know—"

"Not bad news. Surely—"

"I'm afraid so. Lord Jeffrey isn't as she got in her car. "God bless us!"

Jill looked back as she started the motor. The old beggar—she must be a beggar, for who else would be out at this hour—was staring at her with a dazed expression on her face. Both hands clutched the bright red scarf.

It was after the car rounded the corner that tears came, rolling down Jill's cheeks unheeded. She was conscious of many curious eyes. But she was past caring. Her world, a beautiful dream world though it had been, had crashed. Her idol had not been found with feet of clay, but with feet of mud. Alan and Ardath. An ugly romance between them.

She must stop thinking of him. She must go back home, and greet everybody at breakfast with a nice morning face. The face of a girl awfully happy over being engaged to Milo Montagne.

Jill shuddered. She couldn't go back now. She would go to Patty and stay until she could face the family with more composure. She wouldn't wake Patty for awhile. She would drive for awhile and then go home.

DURING the time Jill was driving aimlessly about the streets with her white, strained face, Alan had reached his apartment and let himself in with his latch key. The place was now quite empty, a fact which brought a feeling of intense relief. In the rear room, the stripped easel met his eyes, and then a bit of blackened canvas on the hearth.

He smiled grimly. It had been a good picture. But he would forget all about it. Its destruction meant that Ardath Holm was now definitely out of his life. Which was a good thing. If she had hung around, she might have done some real damage.

The telephone rang later in the morning and he answered it unhesitatingly. He was almost certain he would hear Ardath's voice faking penitence.

"Hello there, old chap."

The voice had a familiar ring. It was—of course it was—Vic Ainsworth, whom he had last seen heading for the grind of an English bank.

"Vic! Where are you? I'll take a taxi."

"I'm sorry as the deuce, Alan. But I'm leaving for Louisville in a few minutes. Missed my train last night, all because a beautiful girl wanted your life's history. But it's just as well I didn't get off. There's something I think you should know—" vided in Section 16 of "An Act in regard to judgments and decrees and the manner of enforcing the same by execution and to provide for the redemption of real estate sold under execution and decree, approved March 22, A. D. 1872, in force July 1, A. D. 1872, as amended in A. D. 1917, was issued to the plaintiff by the Master in Chancery of said court and a duplicate thereof recorded as provided by law and said decree; and, whereas, said decree is wholly unsatisfied and no redemption has been made under said certificate as provided by Statute, the undersigned Master in Chancery of the Circuit Court of Lee County, Illinois, will on the 22ND day of NOVEMBER, A. D. 1937, at the hour of 10:30 in the forenoon of said day at the north door of the Court House in the City of Dixon, County of Lee and State of Illinois, sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash, all and singular, the following described premises and real estate in said decree mentioned, situated in the County of Lee and State of Illinois, or so much thereof as shall be sufficient to satisfy said decree, and the amount due under said certificate, together with interest thereon, and the taxes and assessments paid and discharged with interest thereon as provided by law, and said decree, to-wit:

The South Half (S½) of the Northwest Quarter (NW¼) of Section Twenty-eight (28) less one-half acre thereof in the form of a square, and located in the northeast corner thereof and also the Southeast Quarter (SE¼) of the Northwest Quarter (NW¼) of Section Number Twenty-nine (29) in Township Number Eleven (11), East of the 4th P. M., containing 118½ acres, more or less.

Said real estate will be sold on the following terms: Purchaser or purchasers to pay all of the purchase price cash in hand on day of sale.

There being no redemption from said sale, the purchaser will be entitled to a deed on payment of the purchase price and approval of the report of sale.

Dated at Dixon, Illinois, this 28th day of October, A. D. 1937. Martin J. Gannon, Master in Chancery Dixon, Deane, Bracken & Dixon, Solicitors for Plaintiffs. Oct. 28-Nov. 4 and 11 well, Alan. Mother wrote he was in poor health. I haven't the right to say so, old man, but I think this isn't the time for pride and family quarrels. Maybe I shouldn't advise you—but I'd like to."

"It isn't necessary." Alan's voice was husky with emotion. "I'm afraid I've been a selfish know-it-all."

He felt stunned. His father with his oak-like constitution! He couldn't remember the time he had ever been sick. He had an iron constitution that matched an iron will.

"I'll leave for home tomorrow," Alan said slowly.

"There's no great hurry, Alan. A good rest and seeing you again is about all your father needs to pull him around. I've an idea he should be getting out of harness, though."

ALAN smiled grimly. Getting out of harness! His father would never slip it unless he could place it upon his son.

He thought wearily: If it will bring the old fellow any happiness and peace of mind, I'll give up painting. Surely, he had done nothing with it of which either he or his father could be proud. "Sun Over Seville" was still in the hands of the dealer to whom Jill had gone. The dealer had persuaded Alan to allow him to place it on sale.

"I'll sail tomorrow," Alan said, slowly. "Thanks Vic for telling me."

"But Alan, your work. I'm serious. There's no reason to hurry home."

"There's no reason to stay," Alan replied, briefly.

"But you're coming back."

"No, I won't come back."

Vic Ainsworth said uneasily: "I don't doubt that your father has changed this past year. Softened. Don't smash your bridges, Alan."

He added casually—too casually. "By the way, the girl I was talking with about you was Jacqueline Wentworth."

"You were there?"

Vic smiled. Then, he had been right. The electric note in Alan's voice told him everything.

"Yes. She was quite excited when I said I knew you. I gathered she thought quite
